

Frequently asked questions

International cooperation grants

1. What legal entities can apply for the grant?

Public non-profitable organisations.

2. Does my partnering organisation need to submit a separate application?

No, you submit one joint application. To this end, you must decide which organisation will assume major responsibility for the realisation of the project and reporting. You should apply on behalf of the organisation.

You should also enclose the copies of the registration documents of the partnering organisation and a signed letter of intent.

1 3. Does my partnering organisation have to be a registered legal entity?

Yes, the partnering organisation should be registered as a legal entity in its country of origin.

4. How are finances managed between the partners?

We will transfer the money to the applying organisation. Afterwards, the payments and transfers are up to you. You can transfer some money to the account of the partnering organisation or pay via the account of the applying organisation.

5. Which partner is responsible for the payments of the taxes?

The applying partner is responsible for reporting and paying the taxes.

6. Can my partnering organisation submit another project on its behalf?

No, a partnering organisation cannot submit another project with other organisation.

7. Can you help me to find a partnering organisation?

No, unfortunately, we cannot find a partnering organisation for you.

8. Will you announce the winners publicly?

Yes. As soon as we sign the contracts with the winners, we will announce their names on social media.

9. How many projects can I submit in one call?

The number of projects from one organisation is not limited. However, we advise concentrating on the one you are most excited about. This way, you can make it impeccable and impress the experts.
